

Who We Are

We are experts in supply chain demand planning and inventory optimization. Each of our consultants has over 25 years planning experience— as customers and solution providers. We understand the requirements and challenges.

We have extensive supply chain and logistics experience in a broad range of industries at all levels including planning and operational aspects. We understand the theory but we are also hands on practitioners and project leaders.

We believe your best investment lies in addressing demand planning and inventory management issues - the drivers of the supply chain.

Why We Are Different

We create value by improving the planning process. The results are quantifiable and sustainable.

We aim for a minimum 3:1 return on investment—with typical returns being much higher.

We will guarantee a positive return on your investment. We will even offer a success based fee structure with documented results.

We know that time and resources are important. We structure an engagement that's designed to provide the maximum value for you.

What We Do

We specialize in the application and implementation of forecasting, planning and optimization software, simulation tools, and performance reporting systems.

We provide ongoing support to you to ensure that you continue to receive the benefits you desire in your planning and operations solutions.

We make it easy for you.
